TRIAL OF "LAFE" M'MAHON FOR MURDER BEGAN YESTERDAY

All Day Thursday Consumed in Getting Jury Together—District Attorney Hudson stated Commonwealth would Accept Nothing but Murder Verdict

Getting together a jury to try the case of T. LaFayette McMahon, charged with the murder of John Sieto at Gray's Landing, June 20, consumed an entire day. It was 5:30 o'clock Thursday night when the twelve men were secured. The regular panel was exausted at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and Sheriff Kiefer was sent out to bring in twenty citizens. The new list was soon exhausted and he was sent out for twenty more. Out of the last crowd enough suitable men were secured to make up the jury.

District Attorney T. H. Hudson opened the case yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. He said that the commonwealth would not accept anything less than a murder verdict and that a first degree conviction was expected. He said he had testimony at hand to prove that the murdered Italian was a peaceful citizen and an industrious worker, having been employed at the Taylor coke works continuously for three years. His character and reputation, he said, were every bit as good as McMahon's.

The first witness to go on the stand was Harry B. Gans, a civil engineer, of Uniontown, who submitted blue-prints of a survey made of the grounds in the vicinity of where the killing occurred.

Coroner Hagan testified to the cause of the bullet which killed Sisto. He stated the missile entered his right eye and made its exit back of the ear, making a large hole there, showing that the shot was fired from the front. Like other witnesses, he was subjected to a lengthy cross examination.

Undertaker H. A. Johnston, of Masontown, testified as to the disposition of the body after the shooting.

Donora K. of P. Picnic.

Donora Lodge 226, K. of P. will hold its annual outing, Wednesday, September 26, at Eldora Park. If the weather is favorable the affair no will no doubt be a grand success. Many members of the order from several lodges in the valley with their families and friends will be present on that occasion.

Prizes Were Awarded.

The Holly Club committee met yesterday and awarded the prizes for boquets raised by school children. Violet Leernard was awarded first prize, Nellie Kreppe, second and Edward Newhouse, Newhouse, third. Elizabeth Vaughn, May Molnski and Charles Kellenbeck received honorable mention.

PIANOS SELLING FAST

The Big Cut in Prices and Easy Terms Bring the Results

SOME RARE BARGAINS

W. F. Frederick, 544 Donner Avenue.

Our recent announcement in the Daily Independent that we would close out our entire Monessen stock at cost has brought us quick results. Many musicians and close buyers have taken advantage of our very unusual offer and bought now instead of later in the season. Most of these pianos are brand new, but show slight shopwear. If this is not objectionable, then indeed this is the time for you to buy—and save $125 to $200.

These great reductions in prices do not apply to the stock just now arriving from the factories, but every other instrument—piano or organ—will go at once, our prices being made so low and terms so reasonable that they practically sell themselves.

Anyone thinking of buying a piano this fall or at Christmas time will find that they can save about half their piano money by buying now. Why not come out and see if there is something in this stock that will suit you. We shall be glad to talk it over with you.

W. F FREDERICK.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

A delightful birthday surprise was given at the home of Mr and Mrs. Geo. Nash on Ninth street last evening in honor of Miss Mena Anderson. Over thirty friends were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent in games while the occasion was enlivened by music furnished by several of those present.

The guests met in the Sunday school room in the opera house, from where they went to the Nash home as a body Miss Anderson was taken completely by surprise, but soon proved herself a charming hostess. The decorations were beautiful, asters and roses being used in profusion and the parlors presented a lovely scene. An elegant luncheon was served at 11 o'clock. Miss Anderson received many beautiful presents. The guests were "Bertha and Mary Learnard, Lulu Weddle, Beulah Richards, Beatrice Gould, Verna Madies, Stella Sprouse, Louise Alvord, Augusta Miller, Edna Howard, Mary and Pearl Brewer, Messrs. CASE WAS DISMISSED

The case of D. Fedorchick, who sued Feldman Bros. to recover a claim of $27 was heard before Squire A N Shuster last evening. The claim was for the use of a wagon for thirty days and the use of a set of harness for nine days. Some time ago Feldman Bros sued Fedorchisk to recover a claim of $25, but the case was settled by Fedorchick paying the bill it seems that according to the law governing the case, Fedorchick should have made his claim at the time he was sued by Feldman Bros. and that by not doing so he lost all chance to recover. The case was dismissed and the costs of suit placed upon the prosecutor.

ROSTRAVER boasts of a girl who is red headed, pretty, wears store teeth, a No. 7 shoe, has a hand as big as a small ham and can play ragtime and Sunday school tunes with equal skill. She also wants to get married.

THE injury of that small boy at McKeesport while playing on an empty whiskey barrel, which exploded, proves that it does not pay to even monkey with the bunghole of one of the things.

LOCAL undertakers, it is reported, after looking over the new football rules, say they can see no good reason why they should longer remain in business.

THE small boy is eagerly scanning the newspaper now-a-days for an editorial on "The Evils of Beginning School Too Early."

KILLED THE LAUGH.

The Story of the Prayer in Rossini's "Mose in Egitto."

The sublime prayer of the Hebrews, when preparing to cross the Red sea, is, perhaps, one of the most solemn and majestically grand compositions that can be found in the choral repertory, yet, at the same time, simple to a degree. This was an afterthought of the composer and was not introduced until the second season of the production of "Mose In Egitto" at Naples.

The opera then, as now, terminated with the passage of the Red sea by the Israelites; but, although the audiences were entranced with the music, they invariably saluted the passage of the Red sea with peals of laughter, owing to want of skill of the machinist and scene painter, who contrived to render this portion of the affair superbly ridiculous and brought down the curtain amid uproarious mirth.

Rossini exhibited his usual indifference, but poor Tottola, the poet, was driven nearly crazy by this unwelcome termination of his literary labors and intensely chagrined at the idea of so sacred a subject exciting laughter. This lasted throughout the first season; the next it was reproduced with similar brilliant success (on the first night), for the music, and similar laughter at the end of the opera. The next day, while Rossini was indulging in his usual habit of lying in bed and gossiping with a room full of friends, in rushed Tottola, in a most excited state, crying out:

"Eviva, I have saved the third act!"

"How?" asked Rossini lazily.

"Why," replied Tottola, "I have written a prayer for the Hebrews before crossing the dreadful Red sea, and I did it all in one hour."

"Well," said Rossini, "if it has taken you an hour to write this prayer I will engage to make the music for it in a quarter of the time. Here, give me pen and ink," saying which he jumped out of bed, and in ten minutes he had composed the music without the aid of a piano and while his friends were laughing and talking around him. Thus, owing to the blundering ignorance of a stage carpenter and scene painter, the world is indebted for the most sublime pregniera ever penned.

Night came. The audience prepared to laugh as usual when the Red sea scene came, but when the new prayer commenced death silence prevailed, every note was listened to with rapt attention, and on its conclusion the entire audience rose en masse and cheered for several minutes, nor did they ever again laugh at the passage of the Red sea.

This Was in 1824.

English opinion of the United States in 1824, from the standpoint of the fashionable London set, is shown in the extract from the correspondent of John Whishaw:

"You must have read some time since in the papers of a few young 'fashionables,' Mr. Stanley (Lord Derby's grandson), Messrs. Wortley and Denison, ministerial members, and Labouchere, a nephew of Mr. Baring, having sailed for New York with the intention of making a tour of the United States. The scheme was thought very wild and much disapproved of by the west end of the town, and disappointment and disgust were universally predicted."

Superstitions of Fishermen.

English herring fishermen are, many of them, remarkably superstitious. For instance, on some fishing boats whistling is forbidden, and neither milk nor burned bread is allowed on board. Furthermore, not even the name of that unlucky animal, the hare, may be mentioned, and a common method of punishing an enemy is to throw a dead hare into his boat. Some of the fishermen believe in luck attending an odd numbered crew, but the good fortune may be neutralized should one of the number have red hair.—London Standard.

The Pendulum.

Honors are being stolen from most of the great men of former days. Galileo was said to have discovered the law of isochronism of the pendulum while pursuing his studies at Pisa in 1581. Now we learn that the pendulum was used as a correct measure of time among the Arabs as far back as the year 1000.

Why They Preach.

The distinction between a good preacher and a bad preacher has not changed much since Archbishop Whately declared that "a good preacher preached because he had something to say, and a bad preacher because he had to say something."

Another Rejection.

Poetess—I got quits last night with the editor who rejects all my verses. Friend—What did you do? Poetess—I rejected his son.—London Tit Bits.

A Cardiac Affection

(Original.)

Dudley Noyes was not stage struck in the ordinary acceptation of those words, but he was struck flat a-back, as sailors say, with an actress, Lenore Levere, whose real name was Hannah Piggatt and had just made her great success at the Olympic in "How to Catch a Lover," and it had been running a hundred nights when Noyes went to see it. After that he went three nights a week till the play was taken off. He frequently sent up flowers when Miss Levere was called before the curtain, and she soon perceived that she had made a conquest.

Noyes had an intimate friend who held the appointment of physician to the Olympic. A seat was reserved for the doctor, and he was expected to occupy it at every performance. He had done so till "How to Catch a Lover" had reached the hundredth night, after which, tired at the repetition, he occupied it occasionally, giving his ticket mostly to Noyes. Miss Levere received several baskets of flowers from the man sitting in this seat and, desiring to know who he was, had after a performance looked at the number, then gone to the box office and inquired. She was told that it was always reserved for the physician.

Now, after half a dozen lots of flowers had come to her without a card or a note attached Miss Levere concluded that the donor simply admired her as an actress and had no desire even to form her acquaintance. For awhile she was quite "miffed" and refrained while on the stage from glancing at the doctor's seat, into which latterly Noyes was accustomed to sink when he came to the theater. But pique finally decided the actress to commit an overt act. If Mr. Noyes would not seek her of his own accord he must be forced to seek her. One evening after she had gone off the stage, having finished her part, though the play was not yet closed, a supernumerary tapped Noyes on the shoulder and said:

"Doctor, you're wanted behind the scenes."

Noyes found himself on the horns of a dilemma. If he admitted he was not a doctor he would betray his friend, who would lose his position. If he personated a doctor—he knew nothing of medicine—he might do a great deal of harm and get into trouble. There was another objection to his going—he would be recognized not as the regular theater physician.

"Anything serious?" he asked.

"I think not. Miss Levere has fainted, but I think it is from overwork."

This decided Noyes. He would go as a doctor and say that the regular man, being indisposed, had asked him to take his place for the evening. He arose and followed the super.

He found Miss Levere lying on a lounge in the greenroom. She had washed the paint from her face, since it is not becoming at a short distance, and so arranged her drapery as to look very charming. The manager and stage manager both stood over her.

The first thing Noyes did was to mention that he was sorry the regular physician was not on hand, the second to take the invalid's wrist and note her pulse. It beat very quickly, but, for that matter, no quicker than his own. Then he put his ear down and listened to the beating of her heart and from a gentle spasmodic heaving of the chest knew that it beat in consonance with his own.

"H'm!" he said, addressing the manager and calling to mind the few medical phrases he had in his knowledge box. "There is a slight cardiac disturbance in the thorax, and the pulse is quicker than it should be. How long has the piece been running?"

"This is the one hundred and seventy-eighth night."

"How many matinees?"

"Two a week."

"This lady, it seems to me, has not the physique for such a strain. I fear she will have to be off for awhile."

"Can't you brace her, doctor?"

"I'll give her a tonic."

Feeling in his pockets, he brought out a pencil and, being furnished with a bit of paper, wrote:

Aqua pura..... 2 ounces
Spirits cognac .. .. ½ pint

"This simple stimulant will do for this evening, and tomorrow I will visit her and either order a rest or a permanent tonic."

The interested parties took the prescription away, and Noyes was about to retire when the patient gave him a glance signifying that she would like him to remain.

"Doctor," she whispered, "bend lower. I have a confession to make."

Noyes put his ear near her lips.

"I'm no more ill than you are. I want a vacation. Can't you manage it for me?"

"H'm!" said the pretended physician. "One confession deserves another. I'm not a doctor."

"Not a doctor!"

"No." And he explained how he had happened so often to occupy the physician's seat.

"And how could you endure the repetition?"

"How can a man endure often to see a beautiful woman he admires?"

The next day Noyes called on the patient and peremptorily ordered that in view of cardiac spasmodic conditions she must have a week's rest. He might as well have said a month, for any break in performances so late in the season was as good as an end to the play. Miss Levere never played again in "How to Catch a Lover." Indeed, she never again trod the boards, for before securing another engagement she married Dudley Noyes.

state laws.

"If you should have your choice whether to live in the Empire State or in good old New Jersey, don't fail to select Jersey," remarked a Hoboken Lawyer the other day. "Over there," said he, "we still do business on lines laid out by the common law. For example, under the laws of New Jersey a husband is entitled to all the personal property left by his deceased wife. Across the river the case is quite different, because under the laws of the state of New York half of a deceased wife's personal estate goes to her children and the residue reverts to her husband. Only where there are no children is the hubby the whole thing."
—New York Press.

He Was Drugged.

An ambulance surgeon had a curious experience the other night. He was summoned to a police station to examine an unconscious prisoner. The prisoner, very muddy and disheveled, lay on the floor of the cell rooms. The physician bent over and examined him and then, rising, said in a loud stern voice:

"This man's condition is not due to drink. He has been drugged."

A policeman turned pale and said in a timid, hesitating voice:

"I'm afraid yer right, sir. I drugged him all the way from Carney's saloon, a matter of a hundred yards or more."
—Argonaut.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, on the 29th day of September, 1906, at nine o'clock a. m., by virtue of an Act of the Assembly entitled, "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulations of certain corporations" approved April 29th, 1874, and the supplements thereto, by James McGaughey, Albert D. Agnew, J. K. Boyd, and A. R Russell, and A. I. Murdock and others for the charter of an intended corporation to be known as "The First United Presbyterian church of Monessen Pennsylvania," the character and object of which is the worship of God in accordance to the faith, doctrine discipline and usages of the United Presbyterian church of North America, with the right and power to receive and accept real or personal property, to mortgage or convey the same in the manner and form as therein prescribed, and to enjoy all the rights and privileges which may be given to it under the Act of Assembly aforesaid and its supplements.

Rheumatism is not incurable Stubborn? Yes! But Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy will if faithfully used drive it out of the system. Its the blood that's at fault. Poisonous crystals like sand get into the joints and muscles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy prevents this. It drives Rheumatism from the blood and then Rheumatism dies. We recommend and sell it. For sale by all druggists.

For the Stomach Heart and Kidneys

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a Cause Cure—not a Symptom Cure.

It is a common mistake to take artificial digesters for stomach troubles—or heart stimulants for weak heart—or so-called kidney remedies for diseased kidneys. These organs do not act separately or of their own accord—they have no control over themselves—and not once in 800 times is the sickness the fault of the organ. It is the fault of the nerves which control the organ—and only through these nerves can stomach, kidney or heart disorders be cured. Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wisconsin, learned early in his medical experience that these inside nerves were the power nerves—that through them only was it possible to cure indigestion, heartburn, belching, insomnia, backache, heart weakness, Bright's disease and all other affections of the kidneys. For all of these ailments are not separate sicknesses and are not to be treated as such. They are merely symptoms of inside nerve weakness, and when the nerves are restored the symptoms and the sickness disappear. The remedy which Dr. Shoop prescribed for these ailing nerves is known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It relieves the pain and distress of kidney, stomach and heart troubles quicker even than those medicines designed simply to give temporary relief. Dr. Shoop's Restorative (Tablets or Liquid) can now be had of druggists everywhere. For sale and recommended by

"ALL DEALERS"

If all dyspepsia sufferers knew what Dr Shoop's Restorative would do for them, Dyspepsia would practically be a disease of the past. Dr. Shoop's Restorative reaches stomach troubles by its direct tonic action upon the inside nerves—the true stomach nerves. Stomach distress or weakness, fullness bloating belching etc. Call for the Restorative. We recommend and sell Dr Shoop's Restorative. For sale by all druggists.

Dear Sir: Please ask your WIFE, DAUGHTER or SISTER to Read MY FREE Offer.

WISE WORDS OF SUFFERERS

From a Woman of Notre Dame, Ind.

I will mail, free of any charge, this Home Treatment with full instructions and history of my own case to any lady suffering with female trouble. You can cure yourself at home without the aid of any physician. It will cost you nothing to give the treatment a trial, and if you decide to continue it will only cost you about 12 cents a week. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. I have nothing to sell Tell other sufferers of it—This is all I ask. It cures all, young or old.

If you feel a bearing-down sensation, sense of impending evil, pain in the back or bowels, creeping feeling up the spine, a desire to cry frequently, hot flashes, weariness, frequent desire to urinate, or if you have Leucorrhea (Whites), Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scant or Painful Periods, Tumors or Growths, address Mrs. M. Summers for the Free Treatment and Full Information. Thousands besides myself have cured themselves with it. I send it in plain wrappers.

TO MOTHERS OF DAUGHTERS I will explain a simple Home Treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young ladies. It will save you anxiety and expense and save your daughter the humiliation of explaining her troubles to others. Plumpness and health always result from its use.

Wherever you live I can refer you to well known ladies of your own State or county who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all diseased conditions of our delicate female organism, thoroughly strengthens relaxed muscles and ligaments which cause displacement, and makes women well. Write today, as this offer may not be made again.

"After using the above recommended Home Treatment but a short time, I was completely cured of Ulceration of the Womb and Soreness of the Ovaries, so that I can now again enjoy life." MRS. MARY McWADE, Box 10, East Sharpsburg, Pa.

"I was under treatment by five doctors who said nothing could be done except to have my organs removed by operation. This I refused to allow, and I am now cured by the use of your Home Treatment, which I shall praise as long as I live." MRS. SADIE McDOWELL, East Downingtown, Pa.

"From my own experience and through observation I know that your celebrated Home Treatment is a successful cure for Leucorrhea, Painful and Irregular Menstruation, and even Falling of the Womb." MRS. D. TOEBELMANN, 1913 So. Fifth St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath general debility, sour risings and nausea of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol digests what you eat. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, a method with which Dyspepsia cure does not experiment, but the only remedy that cures all stomach troubles by digesting, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach

Mr. E. S. Ball of Rawlings, Wyo. says—"I was troubled with acute stomach for twenty years and Kodol cured me and we are now using it in our family."

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Alvira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.
